> "Last month there was a cable assembly notice. Only seven days were given. By the time we sent it, the OEM said it was not possible, and later I heard another consultant had sent it to them two days before us."

Find the notice in time. Protect the delivery. Keep the account.

Three services, each aimed at one gap in the same week.

MARKETING

Every notice that fits each OEM, on one list, before nine

Reads the portal and the amendments. Matches each notice to what each OEM can actually make. Names the OEM, the item and the last date, with the original notice one click away.

Rs 12-15

thousand a month of Amit's time returned. Estimate, assumes half his day.

Rs 1-1.5

lakh a month

of commission at risk. Estimate, assumes one in five of the extra notices gets bid.

Rs 75,000-1,50,000 to build, Rs 20,000-35,000 a month. Estimate, priced at about 15% of the first year's value.

FULFILMENT

A slip shows up before the delivery date, not after

Each order tracked by milestone: material, inspection call, QA visit, dispatch, delivery, GRN. An alert before each date, and the delay letter drafted the moment one slips.

Rs 1-2

lakh a year

of penalty letters avoided. Estimate, assumes two avoided a year, from the nine-day inspection wait.

Rs 50,000-90,000 to build, Rs 10,000-18,000 a month. Estimate, priced against the penalty letters it prevents.

RETENTION

You hear it from the numbers, not from the OEM leaving

A monthly signal per OEM: notices accepted, bids made, orders won, days since contact. A flag the moment it drops.

Rs 4.2-6

lakh a year

of retainer protected. Estimate, assumes one OEM kept, at Rs 35,000-50,000 a month.

Rs 50,000-90,000 to build, Rs 10,000-18,000 a month. Estimate, priced at 2-4% of the retainer it protects.

The same week, before and after

TODAY

Notices read by hand before nine

A slip found three days before the date

An OEM drifting for months before anyone notices

AFTER

One list each morning

An alert before each milestone

A flag the month an account starts to go quiet

Start with the morning list on two OEMs.

Rs 8,000 a month, 2 months notice

First proof inside 4 weeks, measured on your own notices

Start date: 1 November 2026
